Transition Protocol typical values represent data from 100 rolls across different line and polymer combinations from a limited number of manufacturing campaigns. Values will be refreshed, as necessary, upon data collection from additional campaigns and long-term variability discernment.
Transition Protocol typical values represent data from 100 rolls across different line and polymer combinations from a limited number of manufacturing campaigns. Values will be refreshed, as necessary, upon data collection from additional campaigns and long-term variability discernment.

*Thickness variability target is equal to or less than incumbent product.