DuPont Personal Protection COVID-19 Update

To our valued customers:

Like much of the world, DuPont is actively monitoring the recent global pandemic outbreak of the novel coronavirus (COVID-19). The extraordinary measures that are being taken to contain the spread of the virus are having a significant impact on people and businesses across the globe.

As we continue to monitor the spread of COVID-19, we recognize the importance of supply reliability to our customers and our global supply network is monitoring the situation on a daily basis. Currently, all DuPont Safety production facilities are operating as planned. With production plants strategically placed domestically and globally, we are prepared to mitigate the challenges that our manufacturing operations could potentially face.

Our DuPont Personal Protection team is working to support the personal protective equipment (PPE) needs of frontline response personnel in impacted locations around the world trying to contain COVID-19. We have significantly increased production of the most requested Tyvek® garments. Even with these efforts, total Tyvek® garment demand continues to increase significantly, challenging our ability to meet all needs.

We are working directly with governments, our channel partners and our end-use customers to understand their needs and to prioritize supply based on this input.

Consistent with our core values, DuPont is also actively managing the effects this pandemic may have on our people and locations through the activation of both corporate and local crisis management teams. We have issued guidance to employees about travel, as well as other precautions to ensure they stay healthy. In addition, DuPont has implemented certain safety and health protocols to protect all workers and visitors to our sites from potential exposure to the virus.

Our thoughts and concern go out to those directly impacted by the virus and to frontline response personnel. This is an unsettling time for all of us. Our teams are striving every day to deliver the needed DuPont Personal Protective garments to the personnel managing the COVID-19 response. This is what we do and we’re proud to support the dedicated personnel on the frontlines.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

David Domnisch
Global Business Leader
DuPont Personal Protection